An Exclusive Interview with... Myles The Hypoallergenic Superhero

Newsflash: So, Myles, you battle allergies and save the planet...

Myles: Yup.

Newsflash: And you're how old?

Myles: 9

Newsflash: That's pretty impressive. For a 9 year old.

Myles: Thanks. My mom thinks so too.

Newsflash: So... Myles...if that is your real name....

Myles: It is.

Newsflash: Okay then Myles, when did you first discover you had allergies?

Myles: Recess. 2005. I was swapping 'snack paks' with my best friend Emer...

Newsflash: Emer?

Myles: That's her real name.

Newsflash: I'm sure it is.

Myles: So I gave Emer my jujubes and she gave me her double chocolate chip peanut butter cookie...

Newsflash: And-

Myles: My throat felt all funny and my eyes got all watery and my skin got all itchy and my chest started to get real tight and...and...

Newsflash: AND?!

Myles: I can't talk about it. It was bad.

Newsflash: Real bad?

Myles: Real bad.

Newsflash: And so then you became a Superhero?

Myles: I WISH it was that easy!! There were many more gross disgusting allergy attacks and then finally one day ...

Newsflash: One day what?

Myles: There's too much to tell. Just come and see the show at FringeJR during FringeNYC and I'll tell you all about it. There's lots of action! I pummel pollen! Kick box a cat! Pulverize a peanut!

Newsflash: Wow!

Myles: That's AFTER I got my powers....

Newsflash: But how did you get-

Myles: Have to come see the show, mister.

TRUE OR FALSE??

Some cat breeds cause allergies, and some don't.

True or False?

False.

A cat is a cat is a cat.
The allergy is to the entire species.
So, do not get fooled into buying an expensive "hypoallergenic" cat.

Cats with less fur may have the same amount of dander as cats with more fur.
